

Short biography:

Valentina Basili is currently working as research fellow in CNR STIIMA Institute, Biella.

She has a master degree in Applied Biotechnology at University of Rome, Tor Vergata (2024) and she is studying Fashion Sciences at University of Rome, La Sapienza. Her main activities are in the microbiological field, applied to textile functionalization and characterization.